Lumi Eyes

375

160 Course of 3

A high-quality product that repairs damage to the dermis with polynucleotides with a strong tissue regenerating effect. The effect of the treatment is strong hydration and rejuvenation of the tissue, as well as the reduction of symptoms of fatigue.

Sunekos

Ideal for those who want to restore the naturally youthful look of your skin and improve signs of ageing, SuneKos is an injectable treatment that's entirely different to filler treatments; this treatment uses a patented formula which combines amino acids (the essential building blocks of elastin and collagen) with hyaluronic acid. SuneKos regenerates the Extra Cellular Matrix (ECM) of your skin and deeply hydrates and plumps the treated tissue. This leads to 'dermal biogenesis.' The result? A reduction in the severity of your wrinkles, hydration to both the superficial and deep layers of your skin, a desirable volumising effect and a dramatic boost to your elastin and collagen.

This treatment is ideal if you have loose, crepey, thin skin and/or a loss of volume around your eyes. It is also suited to help with lines, wrinkles, crepiness, volume-loss and laxity on your neck and face. SuneKos can significantly regenerate your ageing skin and restore a natural-looking, youthful appearance.

A treatment of SuneKos is used usually made up of 4 sessions 7-10 days apart.

It is highly effective for body contouring but is not a treatment for weight loss.

Profilo Treatment

Individual Treatment 250

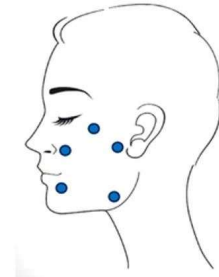

Two Full Treatments 450

Often called a 'lunchtime facial treatment' with immediate results, Profilo is a quick treatment - taking about 15 minutes with no downtime. It is injected just under the skin, using exceptionally fine needles, in ten pre-determined points; five injection points on each side of the face to give optimum results. The fine needle means the treatment is relatively painless, feeling like a small scratch, and usually does not require a topical numbing cream prior to treatment.

The effects of Profilo are subtle but immediate; the skin will look smoother and brighter immediately following your first treatment. As time passes these effects are enhanced and can last up to six months, depending on skin type and lifestyle.

Profilo is injected into the following areas on both sides of the face:

- Zygomatic Protrusion (cheekbone)
- Nasal Base (in line with the nostril)
- Tragus (in line with the ear lobe)
- Chin
- Mandibular Angle (jawline)

Immediately following the treatment there is a noticeable improvement in skin tone, hydration as well as firmness, and lines are minimised. Over the next four weeks the Profilo treatment works to boost elastin and collagen production, giving it a plumper, smoother and firmer appearance. Profilo's structure also allows it to flow over an extended area to boost hydration and smooth or 'remodel' the skin.

For optimum results Profilo requires two treatments. We also recommend, after approximately six months, and maintenance treatment to prolong the effect.

Profilo Body Treatment

Profilo is a fantastic and world-renowned treatment for skin laxity on the body. It is most used to address target areas on the neck, décolletage, abdomen, arms and above the knees. Recently launched in the UK, profilo body is the only injectable treatment specifically designed for treating body skin laxity. Profilo body is a bio-remodelling treatment that smooths fine lines and wrinkles, rehydrates crepey skin and improves skin elasticity. As we age, our skin can start to sag and lose its youthful freshness. Sagging skin on the body because of ageing or weight variations can be eliminated using the revolutionary profilo body treatment.

The treatment package for one area, such as the abdomen, is £650 and includes the following:

- 2x Profilo treatments spaced 4 weeks apart.
